

Psychic replies: 'I believe in Christ'

PSYCHIC Patrick Deadman, who has come under fire from some local church leaders, has told the Extra: "I'm a Christian."

One of the clairvoyants in the recent controversial psychic festival at the Kings Head in Loughborough, Mr. Deadman went on: "I'm a lay preacher in the spiritualist church and my belief in Christ is very strong."

Rev. Phil Weaver, minister of Elim Church Centre, Loughborough, Wolds Vicar Rev. Leslie Robinson and Rural Dean Canon George Crate have all said that God attacks the work of clairvoyants and mediums in The Bible.

But Mr. Deadman claimed: "The miracles that Jesus performed are similar to the ones I am doing myself. I'm not evil."
